He thinks of the day when first, with fear And faltering lips, he stood.
To speak in the sacral place the Word To the waiting multimate.
He walks again to the house of God, With the voice of joy and praise.
With many whose feet long time have predicted ways.

He enters again the homes of toil,
And joins in the homely chat;
He stands in the shop of the artisan;
He sits where the Master ast,
At the poor man's fire and the rich man's least.
But who to day are the poor?
And who are the rich? Ask Him who keeps
The treasures that ever endure.

Once more the green and the grove resound
With the merry children's din;
He hears their shout at the Christmas tide,
When Santa Claus stalks in.
Once more he lists while the camp-fire roars
On the distant mountain-side,
Or, proving spostleship, plies the brook
Where the fierce young treutlings hide.

And now he beholds the wedding train
To the altar slowly move,
And the solemn words are said that seal
The sacrament of love.
Anon at the font he meets once more
The tremulous youthful pair,
With a white-robed cherub crowing response to the consecrating prayer.

By the couch of pain he kneels again;
Again, the thin hand lies
Cold in his palem, while the last far look
Steals into the steadfast eyes;
And now the burden of hearts that break
Dies heavy upon his own—
The widow's wee and the orphan's cry
And the desolate mother's moan,

SUMMARY OF STATE NEWS. A Medical School will be organized at the University. Dr. Harris of Pittsboro', and Dr. Mallett of Chapel Hill, will have charge of it .-Gen. Littlefield, of Bond Swindle notoriety, has made a satisfactory settlement with the authorities of the Western Division of W. N. C. R. R. with Florida bonds said to be good, Other settlements will shortly be made, provided prosecutions against him be squashed .- 450 pupils attend the Raleigh graded school .- P. A. Brown, hailing from Salisbury, a professional "jumper," skipped from Lincolnton without paying his board. He treated the Western Hotel at Hickory similarly. He is low in stature, limps, and parts his hair behind. Look out for him .- 255 head of fat yearlings, occupying 11 cars of the Western N. C. Railroad, passed over the road, from Jackson county, en route for Baltimore. 500 yearlings were shipped by the same parties a few weeks ago, leaving a 500 lot and 2,000 head of sheep to be shipped in October .- Hon. Josiah Turner, assisted by his 2 sons, one horse, (Bob Lee,) and a bull (Stonewall Jackson,) and his dog, (Jubal Early) without even a cook, cultivated a crop large enough to last him two years. The crop is laid by, his boys going to school, and he will now finish up his work by exposing rogues, ring men and bondswappers. --- Application has been made to the fair authorities for the privilege of running the paddle wheel of fortune, offering $800 for the privilege. It was refused .- Mr. Wm. Burney, a young North Carolinian, who graduated at Davidson College two years ago, is at Heidelberg, Germany and taking a splendid stand at that world-famed university. --- The largest man in North Carolina is Capt. James F. Jones, of Greene county. He is six feet one inch high, and weighs 647 pounds.

The time for the State Fair is near at hand. It appears that its approach has never been preceded by more favorable circumstances. The Secretary, C. B. Denson, is using every effort to have matters properly arranged, and we are sure everything in his power will be done to give general satisfaction.

The crops throughout the State have been The crops throughout the State have been large; the manufacturing interests are not so much in a state of stagnation as is the case in many portions of the North. True, we have many portions of the North. True, we have hard times, but not so severe as many of our neighbors, and what is more encouraging than all, the indications are that the times are getting better. It is under these propitious circumstances that the farmers, merchants, manufacturers, mechanics, as well as the industries of all classes and callings, are earnestly called upon to prepare articles for the Exposition.

It is claimed that the lists of premiums are fuller and of more real value than ever before. We are glad that such is the case: as it shows that the interest is still increasing, and the beneficial influences of the assemblage of our State industries will be more widespread than ever.

It is a very pleasing feature to notice that so many of the premiums are given by persons living outside the borders of our State. This only betokens what we have so often claimed, viz: that eventually our State must attract the attention of very many from other portions of our land, which interest will result in the advent of capitalists and laborers to develop the now hidden resources of the State.

We see that political parties, religious organizations and secret societies are bound together by frequent conventions and assemblages; so too the farming interests of the land must necessarily be materially benefitted by such a convention of its products and indus-

The services of our excellent Silver Cornet Band have also been secured, and they are now busy in arranging a programme which cannot fail to please, and will surpass, in point of popularity and merit, anything they have previously given, and will add much to their deserved popularity.

Across the African Continent.

Henry M. Stanly, the New York Herald's explorer, has just succeeded in accomplishing the perilous and hitherto unsuccessful task of crossing the African continent at that point which is marked on our maps as a large blank space, Many men have striven to do this, and it was deemed an impossibility. But Stanley has accomplished it, and now rapid strides will be made to follow up his explorations by others. Besides this a vast amount of knowledge will be contributed to the geographical and general

The Taxation that Kills.

In the year 1870 the total taxable wealth of from this there was raised in taxes, these several amounts of revenue: For national purposes, $365,959,000; for State purposes, $68,051,000; for army purposes, $77,746,000; for town and city purposes, $134,794,000—total $676,550,000. This is 4.7 per cent. on the assessed valuation of the total wealth of the country. In estimating our tax rates, says the Augusta, (Georgia) Chronicle, we are accustomed to take into the assessing the direct taxes we pay to the loaccount only the direct taxes we pay to the local collector-State, county, city and school taxes. The federal government raises its revenue in an indirect way by a tariff on imports and excise on spirits, tobacco, beer and other subjects—in other words, by a tax on consumption which the consumer pays without perceiving it. But it is an egregious mistake to suppose we pay no national taxes because we do not directly perceive them or that they are an inconsiderable portion of the general burden. The figures teach a different lession. In 1870 the people paid in national taxes, $395,959,000; in 1871, $374,431,000; in 1872, $364,694,000; in 1873, $322,177,000; in 1874, $299,941,990; in 1875, $284,020,000; in 1876, $283,758,000;

in 1877, $269,000,000. In 1860, the national taxes paid were $53, 000,000, and the State, county, city and town taxes were $94,186,000—total, $150,186,000.— As the assessed wealth of the country at this time was $12,084,000,000 the taxes were a little over one per cent. on the wealth. The increase in the national wealth from 1860 to 1870 was only a little over 11 per cent.—and even this was owing to the greenback valuation in 1870—while the taxes paid increased from $150,-186,000 to 676,550,000—an increase of 350 per 186,000 to 676,550,000—an increase of 350 per cent. The St. Louis Republican says the larger portion of this enormous increase is due to the necessity for paying interest on the inbebtedness incurred during the decade; but a not inconsiderable part must be attributed to the exconsiderable part must be attributed to the extravagance and waste that marked the administration of public affairs from 1860 to 1870, and that we are far from having overcome at this day .- Charlotte Observer.

The speeches in the New York Republican Convention were very bitter, and the Conklinanti-Hays faction triumphed.

The ravages of the yellow fever at Ferandina, Fla., are truly fearful. Every body who could leave, fled. Only two Physicians able to be on duty. New cases daily and the mortality very large.

KEEHLN vs. HOLLAND .- The case of O. A. Keehln of this place, and Rev. F. R. Holland, formerly of this place, but now of Hope, Indiana, involving an alledged difference of nearly $1,000 claimed to be due plaintiff (Keehln) on an exchange of stocks for a note of $2,000, has been decided in favor of defendant, (Holland.)

W. W. COLE'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.

One of the Best on the Road, Superior in Every Department,

Our citizens anticipated much in W. W. Cole's Great New York and New Orleans Menagerie and Equestrian Exposition, and were not disappointed. Although expectations were raised high, we never knew of a tent show giving such universal satisfac-tion and admiration. The day was a gala occasion for many, for from the time of the street procession to the close of the night performance, the streets were full of people. The parade in the morning although very much better than the usual street exhibition, was only a faint representation of what was to be seen in the interior.

The collection of animals was both large and va-

The ring performance unquestionably was the best that has been seen in Evansville for a long time. There were very many features, introducing the skill of man and beast. The greatest attraction was the beautiful trapeze artiste, whose actions on the rings suspended from the center pole were thril-ling in their daring. She swung through the air with remarkable ease, suspended by her head, at other times by her shapely limbs. To these accom-plishments, she added a loveliness of face and form, plishments, she added a loveliness of face and form, and was a brilliant feature of the performance. We cannot enumerate, for there were splendid bareback riders, who dared to span five and six horses in their race about the ring; lofty tumblers who made flying leaps, and the acrobats who were finished and new in their exhibition. There were besides these a number of trained animals which showed wonderful expective in their words.

a number of trained animals which showed wonderful sagacity in their work.

Taken altogether Cole's Circus gave unbounded satisfaction, and of course had the canvas filled each time to overflowing. Everything about the exhition is orderly, and the attendants are obliging to even the fastidious inquirers who always go to circuses. The company shows at Boonville to-day, and we recommend them to Warrick County. and we recommend them to Warrick County. Vicksburg Herald.

Will exhibit here on the 9th. Have right change at the ticket wagon, and see that you hand your money to the proper person.

Clover as a Fertilizer.

horticultural society of Warsaw, Iowa, made. refering to clover, he says:

Of all plants with which I am acquainted and which are especially adapted to our latitude and climate, the common red clover is perhaps the very best for fertilizing the soil; it being one of the best, if not the very best, to collect the accumulated richness of the atmosphere; while its long and searching roots penetrate the soil in all directions, far beyond the depth reached by our most thorough and energetic plowmen, loosening the subsoil in all directions and bringing up mineral substance of the greatest value in promoting the growth of vegetables, grain or fruit.

Red clover as a fertilizer not only enriches but renders the soil more open to admit the circulation of the atmosphere thereby retaining the moisture and thus producing the best results. We should endeaver to attain to a proper knowledge of the wants of the soil, for it is only by doing so that we become able to decide as to what rotation of crops to grow for the benefit of the soil. Knowledge and energy are the real foundations of profitable farming. In all cases where soils contain but little organic matter, a larger proportion of vegetable manure is required, and it is important that we bury beneath such soils all the vegetable matter possible. not only red clover, but also oats, rye, buckwheat or even weeds (if we are so Leaving out the orchard grass (as it is careless or slevenly as to produce weeds), too rank and rapid a grower), you have as we may thus destroy the seeds of the best mixture that can be formed for weeds, and at the same time increase the lawns, yards, &c. fertility of the soil. The amount of green manure in an acre of red clover is almost by plowing under a heavy grass sward of acre of white or navy beans.

Then we must consider how easy it is for us to obtain this great fertilizer. It costs us no freight, as does the commercial manures; it requires no hauling, as the barnyard manure, and it needs no spread-

Then let me close by saying that we believe that to fill our soils with a mass of grass and clover roots and other vegetable matter, is to make our lands fat, so that they will pay a good rent to the owner and tiller, it is to increase the fertility of the soil, by feeding and fattening it, as we believe it may be made tat in sod and in manure, as easily as we can

A Lost Son Among Indians.

Mr. G. Fisher, of Fredericksburg, Texas, arrived here on Wednesday in search of a son, stolen by Indians thirteen years ago, when only twelve years old. The boy was found among the Comanche head well covered with wool, a grand band, and recognized by his father instantly. His embraces were received by the son with stoic indifference and imbecile smiles, and nothing would induce him to recognize his father or consent to go home with him, until General Mackenzie interfered and authoritatively told him he had to go. Profuse promises of horses, guns, etc., dear to the Indians here, made no impression on him. He seems to feel the parting from the Indians very keenly. Keep Borax in the House.

Having long used borax for various omestic and hygienic purposes, I have come to regard it as a necessity. Housekeepers who do not use it have something yet to learn concerning a very convenient and useful article. In the laundry it is economical, as it saves both labor and soap, and is really cheaper than thing is kept neat; less wages have to be the latter. For blankets and other large paid for help; less time is wasted; more articles it is especially valuable, and in soiled, while it is not injurious to clothes. It is perfectly effectual in driving away red ants, cockroaches, etc., if sprinkled around on pantry shelves, or put in small quantities on paper and placed in the stores. Ask for circular, or send for one to 35 and Wooster street, New York.

Borax is also of great value for toilet THE uses. For removing dandruff and cleans ing the hair it is unequalled. It is also a good remedy for rough face and chapped hards. Its application to wounds sores, bruises, sprains, etc., proves very salutary, and is often the only remedy required even in severe cases. Indeed. borax is one of the best remedies fo many ailments in our whole hygiene, and for that reason alone should be kept ready for use when wanted. That prepared by Smith Brothers is the best, and can be obtained of almost any grocer or drugused to secrete copper coins about the gist. There are many other uses for borax which I need not specify, but those would then sift and comb out the seil to I have mentioned are alone enough to satisfy any family of the value of the article, and to all such, as well as those NORTH CAROLINA has paid for fertil- who do not understand its properties, l izers within the past twelve months repeat, keep borax in the house.—A

Of the host of rival tonics that have cropped up during its long career, not one has gained and retained such a large phare of public favor, though many have enjoyed a ephemeral popularity. The reason is this, that whereas many of these medicines were advertised to perform cures of the most startling nature, they have, when tested, almost invariably turned out to be of little or no value, while the great invigorant, whose reputation they were intended to rival has never disappointed those who have placed their confidence in it. It has vincinated in the amplest manner its claims to be considered a positive specific remedy for liver complaint, dyspepsia, malarious fevers, debility, constipation, and numerous other maladies arising from general weakness and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels.

The Lastest Fashion for Ladies

Our attention has recently been called to the Raritan Matelasse Cloakings, something entirely new in the way of heavy, thick, warm, woolen goods specially adapted for ladies, wear during the cold weather now approaching. These goods are the handsomest, and most stylish ever seen, and so far as price is concerned, are a miracle of cheapness. They are intended for cloaks, sacques, dolmans, circulars and jackets, for both ladies and children, and are to be found at all the leading dry goods stores in the country. Be particular to ask
